Message from the City Librarian
Spring is on the way, the days are getting longer, and our library system is growing! I'm excited to invite you to the grand opening of our 24th location, the Village Square Branch Library. The community celebration for this beautiful new facility will be held on Saturday, April 16 at 11 a.m.

This event marks an important milestone for the City, the Library, and most importantly for our customers and supporters. Village Square Branch signals the successful completion of a voter-approved Library Bond Program which has allowed us to expand and renovate 14 branch libraries, build 6 new branch libraries, and connect our communities to a wealth of resources, services, and technology to meet their lifelong learning needs.

I am also thrilled to share with you that we are adding two new service centers to the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Library in the coming months - Teen HQ (p. 11), a multi-faceted learning space designed for and by local teens, and SJPL Works (p. 9), a center that combines skill-building, career, and business support services. Both centers will offer tremendous opportunities for youth and adults to expand their skills and access a wealth of resources.

You may notice that this issue is a bit longer than usual, as there is so much happening at your Library this spring. By reading through this issue, you'll learn more about all the new programs and services our dedicated staff is working to provide our residents.

As always, I hope you enjoy this issue of SJPL Bound and discover something new to explore the next time you visit your San José Public Library.

CELEBRATING
OUR SAN JOSE
LIBRARIES

Sixteen years of expanding and modernizing neighborhood libraries.

In the last 16 years, a number of significant changes have occurred in our San José libraries. These changes would not have been made possible if it weren’t for San Joséans who, in November 8, 2000, overwhelmingly approved a $212 million bond measure to update and strengthen their neighborhood libraries. At the time, the Library’s bond measure was the first bond measure on the city’s ballot in 30 years and was the largest ever passed.

The vote was a tremendous win for San José residents and has proven to be an incredible investment in the future of our libraries and our community. The Library Bond Program allowed the City to expand and strategically modernize fourteen branch libraries and add an additional six new branch libraries in neighborhoods that did not previously have a nearby branch.

The city is now ready to unveil the 20th and last scheduled Library bond project: the beautiful new Village Square Branch Library. Nestled amongst a vibrant community of retailers, local schools, and weekend community events - the 16,000 square foot building will be located in the Evergreen Village Square shopping center, between Classico and Ruby Avenues, on the southeast side of the Evergreen Valley.

The new building will contain an extensive collection of materials in a variety of languages, meeting and study rooms, computers with advanced software, and creation stations to help bridge the technology divide and provide a social space to enhance collaborative thinking.

Looking back, the $212 million bond measure not only helped revitalize our libraries and create safe and welcoming spaces in our communities, but it has also offered tremendous educational opportunities to adults, teens, and children by providing them with full access to high-quality library services and resources that we all need to be successful in the 21st Century.

Did you know...

The first round of new branches were located in Blossom Hill, Central San José, and the Eastside, as well as Berryessa, where the existing branch was relocated.
San José Public Library Foundation

The Library Foundation has been instrumental in supporting San José’s new libraries by leading a multi-million dollar fundraising campaign.

The community’s generosity helped build enhanced material collections reflecting the primary languages of San José residents, amazing environments that provide a wealth of learning opportunities, and critical technology access and instruction.

The Foundation’s ongoing support of innovative services and programs will ensure that San José Public Libraries continue to be vibrant centers of learning and exploration.

Celebrating Month of the Young Child

Month of the Young Child is an annual celebration held in April to recognize our youngest learners. Throughout the month, the Library focuses on the academic, social, emotional, and physical development of children, teachers, and families.

Take the Play Pledge

Bring play back into kids' lives!
In April make the promise to give your child the opportunity to play. Doctors recommend that children have at least 60 minutes a day of free play to:

- Improve Thinking and Problem-Solving
- Develop and Practice Communications Skills
- Increase Creativity and Imagination
- Understand and Express Emotions
- Exercise Physical Skills
- Build Social Skills

Take the pledge at sjpl.org/playpledge

Wee Play & Learn Activity Boxes

Starting in April, check out the newest collection devoted to early educators and parents, Wee Play and Learn Activity Boxes! These kits are perfect for families, child care providers, and preschools.

Each themed activity box contains:
- Books
- Educational Toys
- Ideas and Tips

Check out your kit today!

Parenting Play Tips

Participate in play time.
Encourage imagination. Draw, build, create, and role play together.

Explore your child’s play choices.
When your child throws a block, they may be curious about how far it travels or the sound it makes when it lands.

Facilitate exploration.
Expose new materials in new environments, such as a playground, community center or your local library.

Suggest new challenges.
Guide your child to a slightly more challenging area of a playground. Offer different and creative uses for toys.

Keep play fun.
Playtime should always be enjoyable for both you and your child. Relax, enjoy, and know that play benefits your child and your relationship with your child immensely.

Wee Play Dates

Enjoy fun activities, meet other families, and watch as your children learn through the power of play!
